DETAILED ACTION

Response To Amendment

Applicant's amendment received March 25, 2003, has been entered and fully considered.

An action on the merits follows.

Drawings

Applicant's amendment to the specification sufficiently overcomes the drawing objections of the prior Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Applicant's remarks received March 25, 2003, sufficiently overcomes the 35 USC 112 rejection of the prior Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McLeod (USP 5,795,222). McLeod discloses a method for providing grain milling services in claims 9-12 comprising: transporting a grain milling process having a cleaner to a location; receiving grain into the milling process; and generating a finished product from the milling process.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McLeod in view of Giguere (USP 5,250,313). McLeod has been described above. McLeod does not disclose: the grain milling process comprises a degerminator; and the grain process can be transported via a truck, train, airborne transport, or waterborne transport. Giguere discloses a grain milling process comprises a degerminator (abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the grain milling process of McLeod with a degerminator in view of Giguere so that the process can degerminate corn in the instance corn is the material to be processed. Further, McLeod discloses the milling apparatus is mobile by providing wheels (fig. 2) and accordingly, it is obvious that the apparatus is portable and can be suitably transported via truck, train, airborne transport, or waterborne transport.

Response to Arguments

Applicant has not specifically traversed the rejections of the prior Office Action or amended the claims to more distinctly claim the instant invention over the prior art of record. Accordingly, the rejections of the previous Office Action remain outstanding.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3725
